DETAILED ACTION

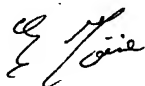

1. In view of the arguments presented in the Appeal Brief filed on August 21, 2006, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. New rejections for the claims are set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

2. Claims 1-12, 19-21, and 24 are pending in the instant application and have been examined.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The preamble of the claim reads:

"A system for summarizing firewall activity comprising:"

The claim then recites limitations that are divided into three sections:

"(a) logic for organizing a plurality of types of events associated with a firewall of a local computer into a plurality of categories;

(b) logic for tracking a number of occurrences of each type of event utilizing the firewall; and

(c) logic for displaying a graphical representation indicating a severity of the number of the events utilizing the firewall, wherein the graphical representation includes a graph;"

The claim then, recites limitations that are divided into three subheadings, each of which is directed to "logic for" performing various activities associated with the firewall. The term "logic" in the computer sciences is a term of art that incorporates software, firmware, and hardware. As such, the term "logic" as presented in the claim language must then be construed to include software or computer program code.

However, nowhere in the claim language is there recited any limitation directed towards the "logic" or program code being embodied in a memory medium such that when the program code is read from the memory media it causes a processor to undertake the steps coded for. The claim is therefore directed towards non-patentable subject matter. The claim limitations are directed towards "functional descriptive material" that is not embodied in a memory medium.

From MPEP 2106.01 [R-5] "Computer-Related Nonstatutory Subject Matter:"

Descriptive material can be characterized as either "functional descriptive material" or "nonfunctional descriptive material." In this context, "functional descriptive material" consists of data structures and computer programs that impart functionality when employed as a computer component. (The definition of "data structure" is "a physical or logical relationship among data elements, designed to support specific data manipulation functions." The New IEEE Standard Dictionary of Electrical and Electronics Terms 308 (5th ed. 1993).) "Nonfunctional descriptive material" includes but is not limited to music, literary works, and a compilation or mere arrangement of data.

Both types of "descriptive material" are nonstatutory when claimed as descriptive material per se, 33 F.3d at 1360, 31 USPQ2d at 1759. When functional descriptive material is recorded on some computer-readable medium, it becomes structurally and functionally interrelated to the medium and will be statutory in most cases since use of technology permits the function of the descriptive material to be realized. Compare In re Lowry, 32 F.3d 1579, 1583-84, 32 USPQ2d 1031, 1035 (Fed.

Cir. 1994)(discussing patentable weight of data structure limitations in the context of a statutory claim to a data structure stored on a computer readable medium that increases computer efficiency) and Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1360-61, 31 USPQ2d at 1759 (claim to computer having a specific data structure stored in memory held statutory product-by-process claim) with Warmerdam, 33 F.3d at 1361, 31 USPQ2d at 1760 (claim to a data structure per se held nonstatutory).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-12, 19, 21 and 24 are allowed.

6. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The closest applicable prior art in the field, Zone Labs: "Zone Alarm Help", 6/2001 and S. Boran: "Personal Firewalls / Intrusion Detection Systems, An Analysis of Mini-Firewalls for Windows Users" 11/1999, do not teach the combination of features found in the independent claims, particularly including:

As per claims 1, 19, 20, and 21: displaying a graphical representation indicating a severity of the number of the events tracked by the firewall, where the representation includes a graph, all in combination with the other claim limitations and in the manner of the applicant as disclosed in his specification,

Art Unit: 2137

As per claim 24: displaying a menu for selecting from a plurality of interface features including a summary page, an application page, an event log, and an IP address page, all in combination with the other claim limitations and in the manner of the applicant as disclosed in his specification.
